To Whom It May Concern:

The Oregon Arena Corporation is very pleased to be working with and assisting Painted Sky in their efforts to increase awareness and enjoyment of Native American music and culture in the Pacific Northwest. Their efforts will be highlighted in the fall of 2000 with their first annual Native American Music Festival featuring national performers, which we are honored to host here at the Rose Quarter.

We look forward to the festival and all that it will mean in expanding the educational opportunities for Native American youth.

Sincerely,
